Follow me and I will make you into fishers of people.

What a beautiful scene above by the sea of Galilee. Wouldn't I love to be there in such a setting? But I have been there. That's me standing in the background. An old photograph 2019 I think. What a most ordinary common question, "Where do you live?" How many times have we all asked? Then the wonderful invitation, "Come and see." Jesus does not tell them, He actually brings them. Like in a supermarket, you ask where the malt loaf is and the staff says I'll show you. Two things to notice:-

1. They were just going about their daily work when they met Jesus. Not in prayer, not in church.
  2. He was prepared to spend time with them.
- As you go about your life have your eyes and ears open. Spend time with people and you will see Jesus. Stay safe, Love and prayers, Fr. Jack*

Father,

I abandon myself into your hands;
do with me what you will.
Whatever you may do, I thank you:
I am ready for all, I accept all.
Let only your will be done in me,
and in all your creatures –
I wish no more than this, O Lord.
Into your hands I commend my soul:
I offer it to you with all the love of my heart,
for I love you, Lord, and so need to give myself,
to surrender myself into your hands without reserve,
and with boundless confidence,
for you are my Father.
Amen.

PEACE SUNDAY today, 17 JANUARY and this year Pope Francis asks us to think about 'A Culture of Care as a Path to Peace'.

"How many resources," he says, "are spent on weaponry, especially nuclear weapons, that could be used for more significant priorities such as ensuring the safety of individuals, the promotion of peace and integral human development, the fight against poverty, and the provision of health care." Pope Francis calls on us to "strive daily, in concrete and practical ways, to form a community composed of brothers and sisters who accept and care for one another."

Pax Christi on their website suggests many ways we can all promote peace in our daily lives. There are activities for families to do at home, including a 15-minute peace liturgy for young children.
