Fr JACK

Priests should be moved about every two years! Because, like in Jesus' day, familiarity breeds contempt.

"We know what he is going to say". "Ah yes, that's Fr So and So".

Equally, from each other, we grow callous and cold.

We have decided what, or who a person is, or will say and we do not even listen.

We need to be open to the Spirit, He is around every corner. "Out of the mouths of babes" etc.

The people eventually got so callous with Jesus that they wanted to kill Him.

In today's gospel, he challenged their own hypocrisy and they did not like it.

None of us do.

And often that is why it is difficult to move on.

Have a look at the second reading again and Paul's great practical advice as to what love is.

Those who only think of number one, should remember it is next to nothing.
