FR. SIMON

Dear brothers and sisters, for all of us who follow the Lord Jesus, there is this consistent invitation to believe, to recognize the Word of God in our Scriptures and to embrace the morality taught by our Lord.

For us Catholics, there is also the challenge of embracing the truth of our Church even as we remain in dialogue with other Christians. All of this, of course, is about loving Jesus, the Father and the Holy Spirit.

It is about loving the Church as Christ's presence in our world.

And it is about setting our hearts and our whole being on following Jesus.

May our Lord give us courage and strength.

'Let us not tire of preaching love; it is the force that will overcome the world.' Saint Oscar Romero.

Laudato Si (continued)

13. The urgent challenge to protect our common home includes a concern to bring the whole human family together to seek a sustainable and integral development, for we know that things can change. The Creator does not abandon us; he never forsakes his loving plan or repents of having created us. Humanity still has the ability to work together in building our common home. Here I want to recognize, encourage and thank all those striving in countless ways to guarantee the protection of the home which we share. Particular appreciation is owed to those who tirelessly seek to resolve the tragic effects of environmental degradation on the lives of the world's poorest. Young people demand change. They wonder how anyone can claim to be building a better future without thinking of the environmental crisis and the sufferings of the excluded.
